

WHITEHEAD TALKS ABOUT PRIMARY'S MERITS AND DEMERITS OF LAW EXPLAINED TO NEW YORK MEN.

HE EXPLAINS ITS EVILS

Janesville Man One of the Strongest Opponents of the Measure to Discuss It.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Madison, Aug. 20.—Before the New York investigating committee here to discuss and study the merits and demerits of the state primary law several politicians of prominence argued for and against the measure.

At the request of the committee prominent Republicans and Democrats appeared and gave their opinions regarding the two systems of nominating political candidates.

Those appearing were: Secretary of State J. A. Froom (Rep.), John A. Ayward (Dem.), Prof. E. C. Meyer of the Wisconsin university, and Charles K. Lash (Rep.) of Madison. All spoke in favor of the primary election system and Senator J. M. Whitehead (Rep.) of Janesville, and former Assistant Attorney General J. M. Cheney (Dem.) of Stoughton, against it and in favor of a caucus and convention system.

The committee included Senators G. L. Meade, Rochester, chairman; Patrick H. McCarron, Brooklyn; Assemblyman James E. Phillips, Andover, vice chairman; Robert S. Conklin, New York; Frank L. Howard, Waverly; Julien C. Scott, Rahbridge; James E. Fay, Brooklyn; Walter H. Kaupp, Channahon; counsel; Henry Kohlmeier, Buffalo, secretary; B. J. Haggerty, Rochester, sergeant-at-arms. All are Republicans except Senator McCarron and Assemblyman Fay.

Secretary of State Froom was the first witness called. Secretary Froom gave an exhaustive exposition of the Wisconsin primary law and its history.

The people of Wisconsin were proud of it, he said, although it was not perfect. The point of regulating expenses was yet to be reached. Because of the large body to be manipulated the primary had largely curtailed the power of the boss. It left less bitterness than the old system under which tricks and trades made trenchery possible.

The man with money had some advantage under the present system, but not much. It was pointed out that while Stephenson spent $107,000 in the primary and McDermott $11,000, the difference in the vote was not nearly in that proportion.

Little attempt had been made to defeat the verdict of any primary or to hold factional conventions. He believed the quality and efficiency of public officers was as high as under the old system. In general, Secretary Froom spoke strongly in favor of the Wisconsin law.

WAS BEEN BISHOP TWENTY-FIVE YEARS

Rev. Patrick Ryan of Philadelphia Has Served as Archbishop There for Quarter of Century.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 20.—Many congratulations were received today at the residence of the Most Rev. Patrick J. Ryan to remind him that the day marked the twenty-fifth anniversary of his entrance upon his duties as archbishop of Philadelphia.

An elaborate celebration of the event had been proposed, but at the special request of the archbishop the plan was abandoned and the only observance was a low mass of thanksgiving, which was celebrated this morning in the Cathedral of St. Peter and St. Paul.

Archbishop Ryan, who, during his twenty-five years' residence in Philadelphia has endeavored himself to win thousands of Protestants, as well as to the Roman Catholics of the city, came here from St. Louis in 1884. He was born in 1851, near Thurles, Tipperary county, Ireland, and attended a private school at Dublin until sixteen years ago. He then entered Carlow college, where he received his ecclesiastical training and was ordained sub-deacon. In 1872 he left Ireland for the United States and became connected with the archdiocese of St. Louis, where he remained until his appointment in 1884 as the successor of the late Archbishop Wood of Philadelphia.

Since he came to Philadelphia, Archbishop Ryan's church labors and public addresses and acts have brought him wide renown. He was the preacher at the dedication of the cathedral in New York; also when the pallium was bestowed upon Archbishop Corrigan. When Cardinal Gibbons received the red hat it was Archbishop Ryan who delivered the oration. He also delivered the address to Pope Leo XIII, when a copy of the constitution of the United States was given to him by President Cleveland.

Few persons outside of archbishop circles are aware that the archbishop is nearing his eightieth year, as he is hale and hearty and has scarcely a gray hair in his head. His attributes of good health to his regular habits of living and to his daily walks. No matter what the weather conditions are he seldom fails to take a walk of several miles each afternoon.

GREAT WESTERN R. R. SALE ON SATURDAY

Bankrupt Road Will Be Formally Turned Over to Morgan & Co. at 2 o'clock for Reorganization.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 20.—Promptly at noon tomorrow Albert H. Moore, special master in chancery, will stand on the block in the West Side freight depot in this city and auction off the Chicago Great Western railway, including its subsidiary lines, the Mason City and Port Dodge railroad, the Wisconsin, Minnesota and Pacific, and the DeCaleb and Great Western, together with the company's 250 locomotives, thousands of freight and passenger cars and buildings, rights and franchises, aggregating in value millions of dollars. And a representative of the reorganization committee, which has been formed by J. P. Morgan & Co. of New York, will be on hand with the $500,000 cash deposit required before anyone may bid, and buy it.

The foreclosure sale and reorganization of the Chicago Great Western road is an event of great importance in the railroad world. For many years the road was under the absolute control of A. B. Stuckney, who managed to keep the property independent of all other interests and operated it regardless of what other lines in the middle west territory might do. As a consequence the Great Western has long been known as a rate disturber among other lines.

But several years ago the road began running behind, and when it was unable to meet the obligations maturing in January, 1928, it was put into the hands of receivers. At the time of the receivership the road had outstanding short term debt amounting to over $10,000,000. Practically all of the majority stock and a substantial part of the other classes of stock have been deposited under the reorganization agreement, which provides for the rehabilitation of the road under the direction of a governing board to be appointed and controlled by J. P. Morgan and his associates. The new president of the road is to be Samuel H. Polton, a veteran railroad executive of forty years' experience and who for the past ten years has been the president of the Chicago and Alton road.

It is believed that after the reorganization is complete the Chicago Great Western will take its place among the strong roads of the country. Its territorial situation is unexcelled, and as soon as the company has plenty of funds for development it is expected to take a prominent part in traffic regulations and transportation problems of the middle west. One of the first steps to be taken by the new management will probably be the removal of the general headquarters of the road from St. Paul to Chicago.

HYLAND VS. FRAYNE IN 'FRISCO TONIGHT

Twenty Round Scrap Between Two a Feature of Exhibition at Mission Athletic Club.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

San Francisco, Aug. 20.—The twenty-round fight between Dick Hyland and Johnny Frayne, which is to be the feature bout in tonight's show at the Mission Athletic club, is exciting the liveliest interest in local sporting circles. The two are regarded as evenly matched and a lively contest is anticipated. Both boys appear to be in good shape to stand the hard grind, having been in faithful training ever since the articles were signed.

Both Hyland and Frayne realize that much depends upon the result of their encounter. Hyland, who lost reputation as a fighter by his hand defeat of the much-touted Leach Cross, appreciates the fact that his stock will be boosted still higher if he does win.

The latter, on the other hand, has left nothing untried to shape himself into the best possible shape for tonight's go, knowing that if he wins Hyland he will probably get a chance to meet Nelson, McFarland or some of the other topnotchers.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

La Crosse, Wis., Aug. 20.—A stranger with his skull badly fractured and otherwise seriously injured, was found beside the railroad track of the Milwaukee road between Bangor and Rockland, by section men. The man was brought to a local hospital but there was no means by which to identify him and his condition is such that he is unable to speak. Physicians any that if he recovers he will be insane. A peculiar feature of the accident is that two men have been killed in the same place within two years and another badly injured recently. In each case the men claimed they thought they were riding alone between two box cars when suddenly an invisible hand seemed to grasp them by the shoulder and hurt them to the ground. The accidents have all occurred during the night.

Honesty and Happiness. The world is getting much better all the time and it is through the process of law and not a growing feeling by individuals that they can get no satisfaction out of life unless they are true to themselves.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

JANESVILLE GREEKS WOULD ANSWER CALL

Men of Little Colony Here Ready to Depart Should Their Country Need Them.

Greeks in this city are intensely interested in the progress of affairs in regard to the disposition of the island, Crete, which has been such a bone of contention between Greece and Turkey, and whose possession is desired by both countries. The Greeks themselves, who are all Christians, would prefer to unite with Greece and come under the Greek rule, but the island is rich in possessions and natural wealth and the Young Turks do not propose to see the Greeks get ahead of them if they can prevent it. Up until a short time ago, soldiers representing the powers of Europe were stationed in the island to preserve peace and prevent warfare among the two contending nations, but they were withdrawn and left. A Greek flag was raised in one of the ports and as Turkey claims sovereignty there, a Russian intervention and battleships were sent to Crete to see that the banner was lowered.

The little colony of Hellenes in this city, composed of ten or a dozen members, since the outbreak of the trouble have been watching for the news from Crete, expecting daily that war between Greece and Turkey would be declared. In the city of Helioli, where there is a larger company of Greeks, preparations to leave at once for their native land were made.

Their idea of the Outcome. Two of the men in Janesville, James Zaula and Gus Vlachos, who run a confectionary store on West Milwaukee street, expressed it as their opinion that, unless the powers intervened, Greece could win easily in case of war. In proof of their statements, they say that the Mohammedan fighter has no training for war and fights blindly, his fanaticism leading him to do rash things. The Mohammedan in battle holds his arm crooked so that it covers his face. The Greek, on the other hand, has the advantage of training. Every man over twenty-one years of age, who lives in Greece, has seen at least fourteen months of service in the army or navy, this being required by law. Their navy, too, they say, is stronger than that of Turkey.

Above Greek Patriotism. All things the Greek places the honor of his country. To be able to go to fight for Greece and not to go would mean disgrace and social ostracism for the man who did it. Said Vlachos: "People think that all that we care for is money, but that is not true. We place our country above all else. Each man has a book which is a record of the military service performed for the country. To have a record of service inscribed in this is considered a high honor and is held almost as a sacred duty. For a Greek to be able to answer the call to arms and refuse, no matter in what part of the world he is located, is one of the take from him the last of his honor, and he would become a social outcast. When asked as to whether or not he would go to Greece to fight in case war was declared, one of the members of the Janesville colony replied, proudly: "Certainly! I prize my honor above everything else."

INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL FOR THORSON GIRL

Sixteen-Year-Old Damsel Committed to State Institution at Milwaukee Till She Is 21.

There was a large gathering of young girls and boys on hand when the case of the State vs. Evelyn Thorson, charged with frequenting the company of immoral persons, was called in municipal court this morning. District Attorney J. L. Fisher called there to a number of persons of immature years and at his request Judge Elford ordered the court-room cleared of all except officers and witnesses.

Testimony tending to establish the charge against the girl was given by Chief of Police Apolby, Sheriff R. G. Scheibel, Dr. W. D. Merrill, her mother, Mrs. Theresa Thorson, and her sister, Mrs. Anna Gardiner of Chicago. It was shown that the defendant was warned to mend her ways when taken in tow by an officer of the law about September 26, 1938, for spending the night up river in company with another girl, two boys, and a dog of her.

Both the mother and sister testified they had been unable to keep her out of bad company. The girl walked and screamed whenever any damaging testimony was introduced against her but was quite calm when she herself took the stand and declared that she hadn't had a fair chance to be good; that her sister had come up behind her and kicked her good and hard on the streets of Chicago for talking to a youth; that she had left the sister then and there, afterwards securing work in a biscuit factory and still later "going on the stage" under the management of one Harry Kendall. She declared that she had been in a box car with young Hogan, insisting that she went over there on a passenger coach to get employment at a stand and that she obtained her first information of Hogan's presence in the town about the time of her arrest.

She admitted, however, having been in his company earlier in the week and made damaging admissions concerning his relations with her.

District Attorney Fisher was much interested in her statement that she had obtained beer at Sheridan's saloon last summer and that the bartender had served some of the same beverage to her and the cook in the kitchen back of the saloon only a few weeks ago.

Judge Elford found that the evidence was sufficient to convict and to establish the fact that the girl's best interests demanded that she be taken in charge by the state authorities. He therefore committed her to the Girls' industrial school at Milwaukee until she shall reach the age of 21 years.

As she will be seventeen next February, the period of confinement will be about four and one-half years unless her term is shortened by excellent conduct.

A $1,000,000 PLOT IS FOILED

ARREST OF COUNTERFEITERS SHATTERS A DREAM OF GREAT WEALTH.

NOW FACE PRISON FOR LIFE

Kentucky Brothers Caught When They Try to Get Rid of Trunkful of Spurious Mexican Pesos Notes—Women May Be Aids.

Louisville, Ky., Aug. 20.—Secret service men are investigating a report to-day that two women aided John C. and Marion Roberts, brothers and sons of a former Louisville judge, who are held in jail as perpetrators of what is called the most daring counterfeiting plot ever attempted. Dreams of wealth centered in a brass-bound trunk containing $1,000,000 in counterfeit Mexican pesos were shattered for the brothers when Deputy United States Marshal William Blaydes arrested John Roberts in Shelby county with the money in his possession.

Since the hour of the first arrest there has been unraveled in the custom house of Louisville and in Central police station a remarkable tale of attempted financial buccaneering that rivals some of the boldest exploits in the making of spurious currency.

Facing Long Prison Term.

John Roberts, sitting in the office of the secret service bureau, coolly said that he would plead guilty at the October term of the federal court and seemed resigned about spending a majority of his years in the prison at Atlanta, Ga. He had only wanted to get rich, he said.

It was through Marion Roberts that the counterfeiters were apprehended and their plan to defraud Mexicans of $1,000,000 exposed. Marion Roberts some days ago offered a Louisville broker high commission to dispose of some Mexican money for him. The broker notified Chief of Police J. H. Hauger, who at once ordered secret service men and the "trap" to catch Marion Roberts was successfully sprung. Since Marion Roberts' arrest the police learned from him the information which led to the descent upon his brother at Simpsonville.

Quickly Admits Guilt.

When Blaydes confronted John Roberts in the hamlet of Shelby county the chief counterfeiter admitted that he was behind the plan to dispose of the imitation 100-pesos notes through the broker. He showed Blaydes the trunk, which with Roberts was brought to Louisville. Roberts said that had a perforating machine and a device to number the bills reached him when he had expected them he would have been in Mexico a week ago.

Will Koenig, a printer, has also been arrested in connection with the case. Roberts is in jail under a $10,000 federal bond.

Daring Scheme Proposed.

J. M. Pettor & Co. were the brokers approached by Marion Roberts, who took the duties as promoter of the concern. His scheme as explained to the brokers, and detectives posing as brokers, is the most gigantic swindling idea on record, according to the authorities, and contemplated no less than a counterfeit corporation with counterfeit stock certificates, its business to be done with counterfeit money.

Though all plans and collateral were to be false, Marion Roberts told the brokers, who are indignant that they were made the objects of the proposal that the money he "made," Mexican or American as desired, was flawlessly accurate and could not be detected. He proposed, according to them, to counterfeit stock certificates.

WIDOWS IN CORRESPONDENCE

Answer Letters from Men Who Want Them for Wives.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Aug. 20.—Members of the "Widows' Association of Herwick, who recently acquired widespread notoriety when it became known that scores of letters offering to make them wives had been received from all parts of the United States, have decided what to do with the letters.

There was considerable discussion over them, some believing they should all be destroyed, others arguing that as the men had probably written in good faith they should be answered. It was finally decided that each member has been assigned a pro rata share of the letters and be permitted to answer them or destroy them as she wished. This was done. Some of the widows are expected to correspond with the men whose letters have been assigned to them. They are of all varieties—the letters, not the widows.

CARRIES INFANT AT MOB'S HEAD

Woman with Baby in Her Arms Leads Strikers in Riot.

Pittsburgh, Aug. 20.—Three thousand strikers, led by a woman with a baby in her arms, lined the banks of the Ohio river and fired more than one hundred shots from pistols when the Pressed Steel Car Company at McKees Rocks landed 50 more imported men from the steamer P. M. Pfeil.

The men were taken to the works from the Bellevue station. A detail of ten troopers of the state constabulary in command of a sergeant, all mounted, sallied from the plant as the boat pulled near the landing place to hold the strikers in check and dispersed them. It is said some of the shots fired struck the boat. No one was injured.

AN AUTOMOBILE'S DASH TO DEATH

TWO MEN KILLED IN MAD RACE ON INDIANAPOLIS SPEEDWAY.

ACCIDENT MARS THE OPENING

Bourque and Holcomb Hurled into Eternity as Car at High Speed Crashes Through Fence—Two Records Are Broken.

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 20.—Following the accident of yesterday, in which William A. Bourque, driver, of Springfield, Mass., and Harry Holcomb, mechanic, of Grandville, Mass., lost their lives, the great crowd at the motor speedway to-day watched with bated breath the frenzied carnival of speed on the new course. Two records were broken in yesterday's races and new marks are expected to-day.

Darney Oldfield, driving a high-powered Benz, covered a mile in 0:43 1-10, breaking De Palma's mark of 0:51, and Louis Chevrolet in a Buick negotiated ten miles in the marvellous time of 8:55 4-10, cutting Oldfield's time of 9:12—both of these are new American track marks.

Burman Wins Long Race.

Robert Burman won the 200-mile race, the feature of the day, and the contest that cost Bourque and Holcomb their lives. The winner's time was 4:38:57 4-10—slow because of the many accidents that marred the race. The Stoddard-Dayton, driven by Clements, was second in 4:48:01 8-10 and the National, with Merz at the wheel, finished third in 4:52:39 7-10.

Another National, driven by Kincaid, was the only other car of ten starters to finish the long grind.

The death of the two men caused the American Automobile association to issue an ultimatum to the owners of the big track that certain changes must be made by to-day or the sanction for the event will be withdrawn. The American Automobile association demands that the track be freed from the many and dangerous ruts, which are said to be unavoidable in a new track, and that every inch of it be thoroughly oiled and tarred. Only a short portion in front of the grand stand was oiled yesterday and the dust on the other parts is blamed for the collapse of two drivers in the race—Louis Chevrolet and Fred Ellis—who were blinded by the dense white mist that covered the major portion of the track.

Car Crashes Into Fence.

The Knox car was in second place, with Burman in his Buick, leading, and had covered nearly 150 miles when the crash came. While coming down the home stretch, the car suddenly swerved and tore into the fence at the left of the track, turning completely over and pinning its two occupants beneath it. Both men were alive when taken from under the ill-fated machine, but Bourque died in the ambulance on the way to the emergency hospital. Holcomb lived a few minutes longer but was dead soon after he arrived at the hospital.

Stories as to the cause of the accident vary and no one will ever know what really caused the car of death to swerve from the track. According to the story told by Private Frank Brandoor, company II, Second regiment, Indiana National Guard, who was nearest to the scene of the accident and had a narrow escape from injury, something caused both men to suddenly turn and look behind. As they did the steering wheel slipped from Bourque's hands and he threw his arms helplessly in the air. Then came the crash. One of the wheels was found 300 feet away, which shows the high speed at which the machine was traveling.

Albert Denison, the racing partner of Bourque, collapsed after the accident and the services of a physician were required. The sight of the two men laying dead was too much for the friend of both, who has been called upon so often to face death in the same manner.

Clifford Litteral, a Stoddard-Dayton to mechanician who was injured Tuesday night while on his way to the practice new speedway for practice, died suddenly. He jumped from his own car and was run down by one behind him.

Grand Lodge, Mich., Aug. 20.—Engineer William Bradley and Fireman Fred L. Graves, were killed when the boiler of a west-bound Pere Marquette passenger train exploded two miles east of here, wrecking the train.

The coach was overturned and one of the two sleeping cars was derailed, but no passengers were seriously injured.

CONVICTS IN DESPERATE BATTLE IN PRISON CELL

Fierce Encounter Follows Discovery of Tunnel Through Which Prisoners Planned to Escape.

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 20.—Following the discovery of a tunnel which had been dug up to a cell in the Western penitentiary, and through which desperate prisoners had planned to escape, the report of a fierce fight between convicts in a cell, one struggling to kill and the other to save his life, has caused a great stir inside the prison walls, and guards are on the alert to prevent an outbreak.

As the result of thought, the termination of a long-standing feud, convict A4977 is in the prison hospital with several stab wounds. In the stomach and his assailant, convict 0642 is in solitary confinement, along with two short-term prisoners accused of digging the recently-discovered tunnel. The wounded man probably will recover.

The battle, unseen by any of the guards, occurred in the victim's cell on the south block of the prison. Both men, Germans, are said to have borne hatred for each other for years. No. 6412, noticing that the doors of both his cell and that of his enemy were open and no guard in sight, stole quietly to the neighboring cell with a table knife in his hand. Convict A4977 was prepared for the attack. The men struggled for ten minutes before guards reached the cells and separated them.

Apropos of the investigation of the attempted tunneling, Sergeant of Detectives Johnson of the Pittsburg police force, visited the penitentiary, giving strength to the rumor that a tunnel had been started from the outside to meet the one bored from the prison workhouse. It is alleged that the tunnel was being dug by two short-term prisoners and was near the cells of convicted bankers. Outside collusion is suspected.

Sensational developments are expected to follow the looked-for confession of the two men said to be implicated in the tunnel digging, who are in close confinement and according to rumor, are nearing a breakdown.

FIVE DISAPPEAR FROM TOWN.

Williamsburg, Kan., Has Unusual Record of Missing Persons.

Williamsburg, Kan., Aug. 20.—This usually quiet town is greatly wrought up because of the mysterious disappearance of five of its citizens within the last five weeks.

Rev. Wallace M. Stuckey, pastor of the Christian church and well known as an evangelist in Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas, was the first to go. He left a wife and three children who are destitute.

CATHOLICS IN THE LEAD IN GROWTH OF CHURCHES

Census Report Shows Women Exceed in Attendance in All Except the Greek.

Washington, Aug. 20.—The ratio of increase in the membership of the Catholic church in the United States is twice greater than that of all the other Christian churches, says a bulletin issued by the census bureau entitled "Census of Religious Bodies."

Of the total church membership reported by the various religious bodies and classified by sex, 43.1 per cent. were males and 56.9 per cent. were females. Among the Protestants the difference was greater, only 39.3 per cent. being males, while in the Roman Catholic church the males formed 49.3 per cent. of the total membership.

Fewer males than females were found among the Latter Day Saints, the Lutherans, Disciples, Methodists, Baptists, Presbyterians and Protestant Episcopalians, the percentage of male members decreasing in the order shown, and there being but 35.5 per cent. male among the Episcopalians. Among the Christian Scientists, only 27.6 per cent. were males, and of the Shakers, but 21.3 per cent.; but in the Greek Orthodox church, 56.9 per cent. were males.

Other salient features of the report show that there were $1,250,000,000 invested in church edifices and that every day eight new churches sent their spires skyward.

Of the total estimated population of continental United States in 1906, the church members formed 39.1 per cent., as against 32.7 per cent. for 1890. Of this 6.4 per cent. increase, the Roman Catholic church is credited with 4.4 per cent., and the Protestants with 1.8; the remainder being divided among other denominations.

The total church membership for 1906 was 32,936,445, of which number the Protestants were credited with 20,287,742, and the Roman Catholics with 12,648,703. Of the Protestant bodies the Methodists numbered 5,740,838, the Baptists 5,692,234, the Lutherans 2,112,491, the Presbyterians 1,830,555 and the Disciples of Christ 1,142,355. The rate of increase shown for the Roman Catholic church is 93.5 per cent., which is more than twice that for all the Protestant bodies combined.

Origin of "Suncombe."

Suncombe comes from a country in North Carolina of the same name, which once formed the bulk of the congressional district represented by Hon. Felix Walker. Once in a three-some speech he was interrupted with the query: "Why?" and replied that while he might weary the house he was talking for Suncombe. A classic of the legislative days before the leave to print had been invented.

A QUIET SOUTH

In these mid-summer days affairs are moving along quietly in most of the southern states. The banks of New Orleans are beginning to feel the stimulus of larger demands for funds.

The iron industry at Birmingham is enjoying the long-deferred luxury of getting better prices for its products. Practically all of the cotton mills in the Piedmont towns are running on better time, and many operatives who have not been regularly employed are back again at the positions they held before the panic.

The railroads are resuming their fuller employment of labor in their double-tracking operations and in the construction of new branches to tap territories which have not hitherto contributed to traffic. There has not been for some time, with the exception of the Georgia Central strike, any serious outbreak in the relations of the races, and the section as a whole seems to be entering with eagerness the season of cotton-picking when almost everybody can do something that will bring in hard cash.

Formerly the south would have been much stirred by the tariff question, but what little stir actually occurred is proof that the section accepts the general policy, in common with the most of the people, as one that, under existing conditions of development, is in keeping with its own ambitions and best interests. Furthermore, the south has become much more broad-minded in its treatment of the railroads. Even the legislature of Georgia, which recently adjourned, did comparatively little that could be regarded as antagonistic.

Much more of the spirit that causes the whole people to pull together in building up commonwealths is now seen than at any earlier period in the history of these states. This is partly the result of diversity in the occupations of the people, affording fields for variety of talent which formerly had to seek opportunities elsewhere. The simpler life of the southern people gradually gives way to a more complex system of interests, out of which comes a measure of balance that is bound to tell favorably in the commercial, the industrial, the financial and the political evolution of the people. This is the secret of the quiet yet earnest state of mind which more and more comes to have control of the various enterprises that in recent years have been built up only to a limited extent by outside aid and pre-eminently by their own efforts.

It would improve the looks of the streets if the merchants did not leave their boxes standing in front of their stores for sometimes twenty-four or forty-eight hours at a stretch. That might be all right in a country town, but Janesville is supposed to be a city.

Janesville needs a good waking-up and some day it will get it. Good roads mean good business and every one should do his part in seeing to it that the city's streets are kept clean and repaired. Personal interviews with your respective aldermen will help matters.

While the police are clearing the loafers away from the street corners they might just as well issue a word of warning to the young girls who parade the streets nightly that their place is home.

Evansville is going to hold up the honor of the county by holding a county fair. Too bad Janesville has so many diversified interests that they cannot get together and have one here.

Harriman returns to America without having bought a single European railroad, but now he is coming back he is ready to gobble up several in this country just to keep his hand in.

More talk of new railroads project with Janesville as a terminal or at least a side station. No one believes these stories nowadays until the work actually begins.

Taft knows the difference between wrestling and throwing people down, but the office-seeker who is disappointed cannot see the difference.

So the Illinois lost the city and the Reds won. Boston must be afraid that the old days of the English occupation have returned.

Automobile racing may be grand sport, but like bull-fighting and the old fights in the Roman Coliseum, there is an element of danger and sudden death in it all.

Some day the farmers may combine to move their crops in their own autos instead of waiting for the railroads to find cars for them.

Wollman is off for the pole and it is to be hoped there was no breakdown after he started this trip.

So the great theatrical trust is even reaching out to Janesville to add its theatre to the giant octopus.

It is suggested that if Taft does ride in that Washington horse parade he take the Daisy as his flower.

Chicago has a new chief of police and already the shake-ups have begun in the police department.

There is more real fighting about McKee's Rocks, Pa., than in the vicinity of Boston, Mass.

Mayor McClellan dismissed General Bingham, but he did not lose him by any means.

Croft is ready to fight for its principles if it can find out who it has to fight.

Alabama votes "yes" on the income tax. Will some one tell Aldrich?

To a flying machine the earth appears like one great uncharted rock.

HE STRETCHED HIMSELF.

His name is Luther Welch. He hails from Kansas, was graduated from the Annapolis Naval academy and is now an officer of the United States.

When Luther Welch applied for admission to the academy he was informed that he was an inch under the required standard of height.

But a little thing like that did not trouble Welch. He proceeded to make up that inch by dint of stretching his backbone and pulling at his tendons and standing straight he did in a few months that which was physically possible at his age—added an extra inch to his height.

It is stated that Welch has graduated with high honors, and much is expected of him.

You would expect nothing less from his sort—a type of young Americans who know what they want and go after that thing and get it with a singleness of aim and a persistency that work miracles.

Perhaps one cannot by taking thought add a cubit to his stature, as the Scripture says, but a Luther Welch by determination and scientific methods may add an inch.

This young man knew his stature was no real handicap. Physical size and weight count for little in the modern world. Napoleon's coffin is a short one. E. J. Harriman is almost a dwarf of a man.

In the old days before gunpowder size and brawn were important. The fighting man of that time was the huge knight who could bear the weight of ponderous armor, wield a two-handed sword or a mace weighing something less than half a ton. Nowadays brain and initiative win battles.

Note the little Jap.

Luther Welch knew if he could stretch himself to meet the standard—a standard now antiquated—he would be able to go just as far toward success in the navy as any other, because—

His BRAIN was tall enough!

Young man, athletics is all right in its place, and it is nice to be a tall, well developed fellow, but also it is humiliating to have some little red headed function on a saved off Luther Welch pass you on the road to achievement.

The world of today puts emphasis on brains. Therefore cultivate by study, regular habits and sobriety the convolutions in the gray matter inside your head.

Brains, supplemented by the energy which stretches up an inch to make good, easily win out over mere physical strength.

Supported by Illusion.

The soul has illusions as the bird has wings; it is supported by them.

live in my rooms in Baker street! "I no, Watson," Sherlock said, with a smile, serene and wide, "that since I left you, months ago, you've found yourself a bride." I had not spoken of the fact, so how did Sherlock know? I tumbled from my rocking-chair, his knowledge jarred me so. "It's easy, Watson," said the sleuth; "deduction makes it plain; you ate an egg for breakfast and your chin still wears the stain; you haven't shaved for half a week—the stubble growing blue—your pants are baggy at the knees, your necktie's on askew; your vest is buttoned crooked and your shirt is out of plumb; your hat has been in contact with a wall or chewing gum. You were something of a dandy in the good old days of yore—pass the dope, my dearest Watson; what's the use of saying more?"

Dental Wisdom

Don't have your teeth extracted. Nowadays (tooth can be saved). One tooth of your own is worth a bushel basket of false teeth.

In most cases the pain of an aching tooth can be stopped and the tooth filled or crowned to last you for twenty years of good service.

Don't think a dentist mercenary because he tells you this.

I feel like it is almost criminal to extract teeth when people under inland vision insist upon my doing so.

You might just as well have your leg cut off because it aches as to have a tooth pulled just because it pains you.

I save teeth.

TELEPHONE CO. MEETS TONIGHT

ROCK COUNTY STOCKHOLDERS EXPECT AN EXCITING DISCUSSION.

TO DISCUSS THE SALE

Both Sides Claim Victory—One Says Wisconsin Will Obtain Control—Other That Nothing Will Be Done.

As announced some days ago, the Rock County Telephone company are considering a proposition from the Wisconsin Telephone company for the sale of the local line to the other company. Several meetings have been held and thus far no decision has been reached. At a meeting held last Monday a committee was appointed to go over the books of the company and report this evening and it is expected their report will lead to a most earnest discussion.

Members of the local company who do not wish to sell claim that they are gaining strength every day and that the sale will not be made. On the other hand stockholders who have large blocks in stock state that they believe the sale will be consummated or that at least the Wisconsin company will obtain a controlling interest in the local company. Advocates of the sale hold out that the local company is the last in the southern portion of the state to remain outside the fold and that soon they will be without any outside communication. That while its equipment is now in first class shape and will be good for a hundred years if need be, it will go out of style owing to recent improvements and soon become obsolete. That the price offered for the stock is a good fair one and that if they hold on longer it will not be as much.

Those who favor turning down the offer hold state that the equipment is in first class shape, that the railway commission will see that they never lose their outside connections for toll service already established and that the switchboard can be improved without serious cost with plenty of room for increased service. Also, that the local company pays ten per cent while the new stock offered pays but six.

While the discussion tonight will probably not settle the matter decisively one way or the other it is possible that those who desire to sell their stock will do so either to the Wisconsin company or to the other stockholders who wish to retain control of the company.

Youth Arrested for Criminal Intimacy With Thorson Girl Amended Plea to Guilty This Afternoon.

Tom Hogan, who was brought here from Mineral Point with the Thorson girl yesterday and who entered a plea of "not guilty" to the charge preferred against him, decided to amend his plea to "guilty" when the trial opened this afternoon and the young woman in question was called to the stand. The maximum penalty for the offense with which he was charged is six months in jail or a $100 fine. District Attorney Fisher stated that he had made an investigation and was convinced that the pair did not journey to Mineral Point together in a box car, as was at first reported, and also called attention to the fact that Hogan had assisted the officers to locate the girl in Mineral Point. Judge Fife gave Hogan a severe lecture and intimated that the next time one of the kind of had youths who have been keeping late hours with young girls was brought before him, the punishment would be made as harsh as possible. In view of the fact that he had saved the state a trial, Hogan was let off with a two months' jail sentence.

SHEFFIELD PLATE—A process of placing a coating of silver on a basis of copper was first discovered about the year 1747. These pieces were first produced in the little town of Sheffield and quite resembled the articles of solid silver used at that time. The decorations were limited, being confined to the thread, band and grape borders. Nearly the same line of goods are manufactured today, the English using copper for a basis and the American manufacturers the nickel base. At the present time this line has become very popular, particularly the copper base line and is taking the place of white metal goods for table and sideboard use. During the past two years many new pieces of the old designs have been produced hence its popularity for wedding gifts. —Jeweler's Review.

ODD FELLOWS HAVE ENJOYABLE PICNIC

Two Hundred Journey Up the River Yesterday for a Pleasant Outing.

About two hundred Odd Fellows and their families took advantage of the beautiful weather yesterday with a trip up-river to Hlawatha Springs for their second annual picnic. Games in plenty were in evidence for those who wished to participate. The first called was the ball game between Capt. Webster's Invincibles and Capt. Costello's Bluggers, umpired by J. P. Carlo, whose decisions at all times were firm and just with murmurs on the side for a ducking in old Root. Score: 7 to 3 in favor of the Invincibles. The tug of war was won by Capt. Winbiger's Sandows, who could push a street-car uphill any old time. The married women's tug of war was won by Mrs. Fred Koehnlin's team. The married women's race was won by Mrs. Lynn Whaley; the three-legged sack race, by Ed Davis and Roy Church; pie-eating contest, by Willie Grant; driving a spike with the least number of blows was won by Mrs. Lynn Whaley. The boat-race honors had to be decided between Jas. A. Pathern and Fred Koehnlin. There were also other games too numerous to mention. Jas. A. Pathern, the mascot for the occasion, was always on the winning side. Commodore Schwartz was on deck to see that none went away hungry or sad. Useful prizes were given in all cases and everything went away with the thought, "What's the matter with the Odd Fellows?"

PREVENTS COLLISION IN AIR.

Curtis Skillfully Guides Biplane When Crash with Monoplane Threatens. Rhelms, Aug. 20.—The American aviator, Glenn H. Curtis added a dramatic feature to the trial flights of the aeroplanes entered for the contests of aviation week by skillfully guiding his machine above another monoplane and averting a collision in the air that seemed imminent.

The feat was accomplished when, for the first time in history, three heavier than air craft were maneuvering at the same time. All were flying rapidly when suddenly Curtis saw M. Dumapont in an Antennette monoplane approaching at right angles and on the same level with him. As quick as a flash Curtis realized the danger and, elevating his planes, his machine instantly shot upward and soared safely over the Frenchman.

New York, Aug. 20.—Wilbur and Orville Wright brought suit in the United States circuit court here against the Aeronaute society of this city, alleging that the Herring-Curtis aeroplane, which the society recently purchased and which has had several try-outs at Mineola, L. I., is a violation of their patents. The Wrights demand that the infringing machine be turned over to them for destruction.

S., the commander of the vessel, three men who were on deck at the time of the accident and one man who was below, but who reached the deck in safety, were saved.

The "Hyde of Land."

According to an ancient law in England, "a hyde of land" included what could reasonably be cultivated with one plow. This applied for scores of years, but at the dissolution of the religious orders in the reign of Henry VIII, the "hyde," or cultivated land of the abbots of Westminster, all reverted to the possession of the crown. That marked the gradual decline of that means of measuring land, and before many years the term fell into disuse, never to be revived.

Ploughing Bee for a Hospital.

A somewhat novel method of obtaining funds for a hospital was adopted by the Casterton (Victoria) committee. The president induced the committee to lease 25 acres of land and then arranged with a number of neighboring farmers to plough and sow it. Twenty-five teams turned to the ploughing operations, which were complete in a single morning.—The Lancet.

Newman Bros. On a Piano

means that the most scrupulous care has been given every detail of its construction. That every part has been manufactured in the piano factories of the Newman Bros.; that it has been made by skilled workmen under the direction of experts in their respective lines; that ability, experience and responsibility are back of the piano. The eye and the ear can judge the beauty of tone, the satisfactory case design and the finish, but you must look to the name for reliability of construction and the assurance that the good qualities will endure. The house of Newman Bros. has had an experience of over fifty years in the music industry and artists, amateurs and thousands of satisfied customers give abundant proof of the merit of the Newman Bros.

GREAT BATTLE OF BALLOTS NOW ON

Candidates With Splendid Prizes Ahead Settle Down for Last Effort.

forts—Interest is Intense—But Fourteen Days Remain—The Last Special Offer.

The special offer for the closing days of this great contest is attracting more than ordinary attention among the candidates.

This is a very liberal offer and one that will mean thousands of extra votes to those who get out and hustle.
Do not let the days slip by and think you will get a bunch of subscriptions the last few days, but hustle today—right now—and see how many votes you can get. You may be able to get enough through this offer to enable you to win out easily.

Remember—no more special offers.
Inducements or change in the voting schedule will be made from now until the close of the contest. You must accept the terms now and get as many votes as you can today as they will be the last day of the contest.

Interest increases.
Daily, interest in The Gazette's great contest increases. Daily the hustle of the ballots increases the record of the day before.

It is an axiom of the 20th century that one must rise early in the morning in order to secure and retain a place near the head of this procession.
No contest ever before in Janesville has taken the grip upon the public interest accorded this affair. From all sides comes the query, "How can a newspaper afford to give away, absolutely free, such an array of elegant and practical prizes?" In fact, the expense will be heavy, but The Gazette desires the winners to be well rewarded for their efforts and have purchased these elegant prizes with the idea of "Nothing too good for the winners."
You have long desired a certain one of these elegant prizes—now is your chance.

The management is here to see that you get a square deal, and the prizes are to be won by fair play only. No contestation is going to buy up the reserve of another to add same to her's and thereby shut you out—BEGGARIES
—no ballot will be counted unless it corresponds to the carbon copy and only in a number of votes but in name of contestant. These ballots are not to be altered and record in carbon is kept of every one that leaves the office. All agree that the conditions governing this contest represent fairness itself and the elegant prizes are all that can be desired.

Now, young ladies, don't you think it worth while to take advantage of this special offer and go after one of these prizes with a determination that is bound to make you a winner.

Don't.
Don't be governed by reports. They are circulated for the express purpose of getting you discouraged and to withdraw. "The wise" This is a pure test of popularity. You are in to win, so determine to win or give the one that does the contest of her life.

People like to help those that help themselves.

The contestants are beginning to realize that the difference of a few thousand votes is not a very large margin and are not losing heart by any means. A race is never ended until the goal is reached, and there is always time for the last competitor to win out.

Remember there are twelve prizes.
Do not let this opportunity slide to get one of them.

ANOTHER RAILWAY
IS NOW PROJECTED

According to Advice From Madison
It May Come to Janesville to Connect With Northwestern.

It is said a new railroad proposition which will be of vast importance to the Wisconsin river valley was put in motion at a meeting of various citizens from different parts of this and other states at Madison.
The new company is to be known as the Chicago and Wisconsin Valley railway and will connect with the Chicago line at either Janesville or Rockford, going north to Madison from Madison to Portage either by the way of Lodi or parallel the Madison Portage road, from Portage north through Briggsville, thence north through the center of Adams county, nearly its entire length, touching Stevens Point, Grand Rapids and later north to Wausau and other upstate points.

The project has been under discussion for several months and during the last month two meetings of promoters and proposed incorporators have been held in Portage and two in Madison to discuss the subject and arrange the details of organization.

Plans were formulated and engineers put to work who, within the next thirty days, will traverse the entire proposed line and report to the men back of the proposition who propose to furnish the capital and construct the road.

If built it will be an electric road
and will carry both freight and passengers.

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

HERE is a little contribution on the subject of woman's smoking that may interest those who say there is no logical reason why women should not smoke as well as men.

I was discussing the subject with two men who are great smokers and really seem to get uncommon satisfaction and peace from My Lady Nicotine.

I asked if their wives smoked. They said "No" with great emphasis.

I asked if they would be willing for them to do so. They said "No" with great emphasis.

"Why?"

"I can't argue and explain it," said one. "I don't know as there is any logical reason or as it is really worse for a woman than for a man. I simply know that I'm glad my wife doesn't smoke."

"Which would you rather do, give up smoking or have your wives smoke?" I asked.

"Give it up," they both answered without a moment's hesitation.

Some things, you know, for which one cannot give a logical reason, some things which cannot be explained, are none the less so.

"Dear me, how dark the room is," said a visitor of mine the other day. And then a few minutes later she took off her glasses and found that a good deal of the darkness was in them.

From my store in the closet I produced a small piece of chamols with which I presented her, and since then she has not been troubled that way again.

Polishing glasses with a handkerchief, however frequently and carefully, will not keep them clean.

No glasses' wearers should ever fail to have a little piece of chamols with which to banish the occasional darkness of the room.

And while you are about it, what say to a bit of mental chamols for your mental spaces?

You have probably been supplied with plenty of hot weather "don'ts."

Here is a hot weather "do" for a change.

It applies only to the stay-at-home girls. Though it may sound absurdly simple, not everyone follows it by any means.

Have two complete sets of underwear in use all the time. Wear one in the morning, take a bath at noon and put on the other in the afternoon.

No matter if you wear each set this way as long as you do one worn continually, you will feel far fresher and cleaner by reason of this daily change.

Forty Years Ago

Janesville Daily Gazette, August 20, 1860.—Confirmation.—Bishop Hannan, of Milwaukee, administered the rite of confirmation this morning to a large number of men, women and children, in the Catholic church. The occasion is said to have been an interesting one.

Dr. Thayer's Great Circus.—We yesterday received a call from Mr. Fred A. Du Bois, agent of Dr. Thayer's circus and congress of trained animals, who was in town making arrangements for an entertainment in this city, to take place on Monday, August 20th. His circus has the reputation of being one of the best now traveling, and we have no doubt that it will draw immensely.

FIRST WOMAN TO CROSS THE CONTINENT IN AUTOMOBILE. MRS. JOHN R. RAMSEY OF HACKENSACK, N. J.

San Francisco.—A great ovation was given Mrs. John R. Ramsey as she drove her Maxwell touring car up to the city hall, after having completed her New York to San Francisco trip. She is the first lady to drive an automobile across the continent. The trip was successful, though Mrs. Ramsey and her companions were ready for a good rest after the journey with her were Mrs. M. R. Powell, Mrs. M. W. Atwood and Miss H. Johns, all of Hackensack, N. J. From New York to Chicago, Mrs. Ramsey and her party found what might be termed excellent roads all the way, and would have found them even further along were it not for the heavy rains which started to fall after leaving that city, and which continued with heavy thunder and strong lightning for almost two weeks. The result of these were heavy, sticky, gummy roads through the state of Iowa. When Nebraska was reached there was an improvement in the roads, and the steep climb through Cheyenne and west to a height of more than 8,000 feet, was made without trouble. Through Wyoming the old trails were followed. The many washouts necessitated many long detours, and in one case a railroad bridge had to be used, as the highway bridge was out. All the work done on the car since the trip was begun, and there was very little of it, was done by Mrs. Ramsey herself, who too, has been at the wheel from the start. The run has proven beyond the slightest doubt that a trip across the country in a motor car is none too difficult for women, and as far as safety is concerned, they are as well off as while touring in state in the east.

It Will Improve.

O H, YES, I tried the country this year," said the man with the healthy tan and the starved look, and if it hadn't been an off-year I should have come back weighing at least 10 pounds more.

"What do you mean by an off-year?" was asked.

"Oh, I'm quoting the old farmer. He assured me that it was an off-year for milk, fresh butter, eggs and poultry, and of course I couldn't expect what wasn't to be had. Then he assured me that until this season flies had been unknown, and the hum of a mosquito had been unheard. It was an off-year for berries and other fruits, and an off-year for fish in the lake. I was pin-hungry, but he informed me that it was an off-year for pigs."

"But what did you have to eat?" "Nothing much."

"What did you do?" "Nothing much."

"And what did you pay per week?" "Oh, the usual seven dollars. The farmer assured me that it was an off-year for boarders or he would only have charged six."

"And you didn't kick?" "No, not exactly. I may have said a little something that hinted that way while he was driving me to the depot."

"What was it?" "That if I were to come up again next year I should expect improvement. He thought it over for a spell and then replied: 'And you'll find 'em, too. Next year I'll have a box of blacking and a brush for every boarder that wants to shine his shoes, and a wet rag handy for every one that wants to wipe the shine off again!'"

Milwaukee, Wis., "Stoney" McGlynn that's the name that sounds good to the fans of Milwaukee and the American association. "Stoney" can have anything he wants and he even gets things he doesn't ask for. Recently fans here presented him with a diamond ring for good work, appreciating that he did wonders to keep the brewers around the top of the ladder.

Talks on Snake Culture

BY HILL BLACK

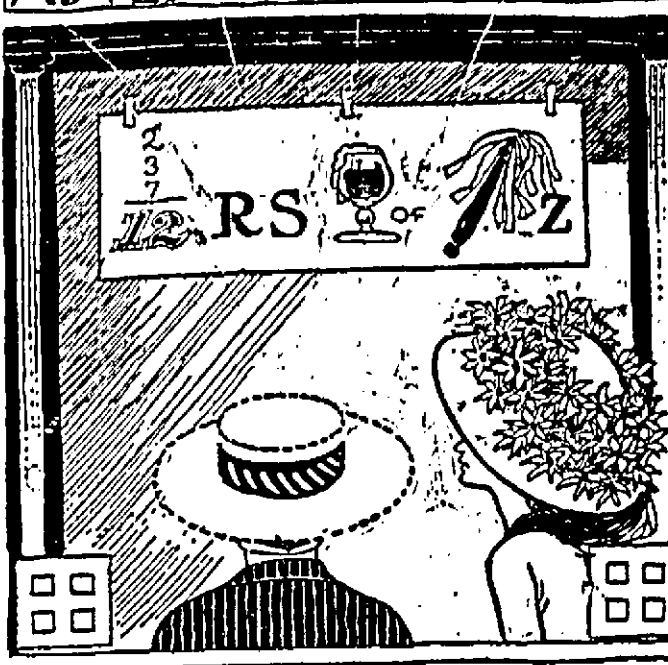

No. 3—The Boze Breath

The beautiful and refined gentleman who lubricates his works with whiskey is a nuisance to his friends. If he isn't a nuisance in one way he is in another. He may be able to walk straight and preserve his dignity and talk as though nothing had happened, but his disguised breath always gives him away and makes his presence a thing to be deplored. There is no mistaking the old boze breath. The man who carries it around may try to disguise it and kalamine it and embalm it, but it rises superior to lemon peel and cloves and all the other popular adulterants and brings to the man who has to smell it sad memories of a Chinese funeral or a last year's hen's nest that has not been properly fumigated. If for no other reason than this something wholesome. Every day in the year some man who wants a job, and needs it the worst way, is turned down because his breath suggests the Hungarian fourth of July. Is such a breath worth what it costs?

DAILY DIET HINTS

By DR. T. J. ALLEN, Food Specialist.

PREPARATION FOR LUNCH.

Pepsin, used as an aid to digestion, is obtained by placing food before hungry pigs so that they cannot reach it and, after they have tried for some minutes to reach it, killing them and collecting the secretion in the stomach. Without considering whether the product so obtained is uncontaminated by the bad mental state of the animals or the advisability of using an artificial digestant, does not this indicate the importance of preparation for a meal? The boy who grows for ten minutes before dinner is ready in the kitchen, is not making good preparation for his afternoon's work at school, and the stenographer who rushes from the typewriter to the quick lunch room next door is preparing for a course in a sanitarium, sooner or later, according to her hereditary endowment, her habits otherwise and the length of time such practice is continued. Drop all thought of work when the lunch hour arrives, walk at least ten minutes outdoors, looking at distant objects, as far as possible, and occupying the mind pleasantly. When seated, relax and draw long breaths, fixing the attention in pleasant expectation on the meal.
